3. Performance:

- 1) The automatic web-fed hot foil stamping machine is a new generation product designed by our company. It is used for automatic stamping roll material after printing and laminating. Automatic web-fed hot foil stamping machine is suitable for the production of paper box, paper cup, surround-bidding label, card paper pressing convex, portable paper bag, paper cover, PVC, and various plastic materials. The main machine and frame adopt the advanced resin sand technology, which ensures our hot foil stamping machine is more stable. The main components are controlled by the Japan Mitsubishi PLC. The main motor is controlled by AC frequency conversion speed regulator. The main transmission system of our hot foil stamping machine is equipped by air clutch brake equipment, which makes the machine run steadily. The machine equipment adopts high precision color photo-electrical automatic trace detection, servo motor automatic locating system, automatic material loading equipment and material feeding automatic correct equipment. Our automatic web-fed hot foil stamping machine has advantages of easy length adjustment, high precision locating, stable feeding, even tension, compact structure, high automation level, easy operation and stable property.
