3. Description

ZB60B handbag bottom-gluing machine could paste exquisite bag bottoms and has completely changed the traditional production line. Adopting water soluble glue has efficiently avoided glue leaking. Its optimized working process has improved the bag quality, ensuring production line continuous, consistent and accurate. It realizes high productivity and high added value.

ZB60B delivers the bag bottom to the connected device by vacuum suction. The bag bottom will be pasted by water soluble glue after being positioned. This machine features the automatic functions of compaction and delivery of bag output one by one. With the frequency control of motor speed, the user can adjust the glue thickness and position according to requirements. Its high precision, fast speed and easy operation significantly improve your bag quality, shorten delivery time and expand operational capacity.
