1. Definitions

Capitalized terms used in this Use License are defined in Schedule A.

2. Licensed Products

Product Proposal

Licensee must provide Apple, for Apple’s approval, a non-confidential Product Plan for each Proposed Product, unless otherwise specified by Apple. All completed Product Plans must be submitted through the MFi web-based portal or other process specified by Apple. Licensee must promptly update any changes made to the status of a Proposed Product, as well as any information set forth in each Product Plan, by using the tools provided in the MFi web-based portal, or other process as specified by Apple. Prior to the submission of Licensee’s first Product Plan under this Use License, Licensee must successfully complete an MFi System Review. Apple may waive the MFi System Review, at its sole discretion, in the event that Licensee has previously, and successfully, completed a similar review.

Apple may provide feedback regarding the category fit of any Proposed Product and approve or disapprove any Proposed Product, for any reason, in Apple’s sole discretion. If Apple approves a Proposed Product, Apple will confirm to Licensee, via the MFi web-based portal, or email, that the Product Plan has been approved. Licensee may not purchase or use Licensed Components for a Proposed Product unless and until Apple approves the Product Plan for that Proposed Product.

Certification

Licensee must self-certify, at Licensee’s expense, that each Proposed Product: (i) is compatible with the Compatible OS Products selected in the applicable Product Plan, (ii) meets all requirements of the applicable Licensed Specifications and other Documentation (including all material, product safety and environmental requirements), and (iii) complies with all other requirements set forth in this Use License. Licensee must document its self-certification of each Proposed Product with appropriate reports and supporting materials and will promptly make such documentation available to Apple upon request.
