

Product name	Home appliances IMLIMD products
Appearance characteristic	Rich color pattern	It can realize the printing of a variety of colors and patterns, and produce high-resolution, bright colors and rich details of patterns and texts to meet the individual needs of different customers; It presents a variety of unique visual and tactile effects such as non-conductive plating effect, soft touch effect on the surface, injection molding effect of real cloth, imitation marble effect, bamboo effect, UV pattern + plating effect.
	Flexible design	It is suitable for a variety of shapes, surfaces and complex design products, can be made according to the design needs of different shapes, textures of products such as can adapt to the arc or 3D surface products application.
Performance characteristics	Wear and scratch resistance	The surface of the product has a layer of hardened transparent film, with excellent wear resistance and scratch resistance, can effectively prevent the surface of the product from being scratched to protect the ink layer from being worn, so that the product in the long-term use of the process to maintain good appearance quality and performance.

	Strong durability	The film is closely combined with the plastic layer, making the product waterproof, moisture-proof, anti-fouling and other characteristics, extending the service life of the product, reducing the damage caused by external environmental factors, especially suitable for some products that need long-term use and have high appearance requirements.
Environmental protection		It avoids the traditional spraying, electroplating and other polluting processes, reduces the emission of harmful substances, meets the environmental protection requirements of modern society, and ensures the health and safety of users.